

Dear 4th Grade Rock Star,

My name is Mrs. Casto and I will be your fourth grade teacher next school year. I am so excited to be teaching fourth grade again!

Some interesting things about me are that I LOVE pizza, sports, bike riding, and math. I live with my husband Andy (who teaches college students and plays different instruments), our sons Declan (he is 4 and loves to read) and Eamon (he is 7 months old and smiles a lot), and our two very crazy cats. I am originally from New Jersey, but I moved to Kentucky to attend Asbury College. I've also lived in Virginia before. You'll get to find out much more about me next year.

Fourth grade is going to be tons of fun, and we are going to learn so much! You will get to explore solar energy, fractions, Greek mythology, and so much more. You will have three different teachers, too! Mrs. Norman for Science, Mrs. Braun for Reading, and me for Math. It's going to be a challenging year, so be sure to read and practice your multiplication and division math facts over the summer!

Sincerely,
Mrs. Casto

Check out our class site through the NES webpage!*